ZWEIBRÜCKEN – Belgium's crane rental, transport and industrial assembly company Michielsens is expanding its fleet with an order for a new Demag® AC 700-9 all terrain crane. This 700-tonne capacity class versatile crane features the longest main boom roadable within 12-tonne axle load limitations and the most compact crane carrier of all nine axle cranes.

“This is the second Demag AC 700-9 crane that we’ve purchased,” explains Johan Michielsens, company owner. “We’ve been impressed with the Demag crane's load charts, built-in technologies, performance and reliability. This machine is easy to erect and parts are widely available all over the world.”

“Michielsens is a well-respected organization that is known for the quality of their work,” says Steve Filipov, president of Terex Cranes. “Since reintroducing the Demag brand to the market a little over a year ago, our customers have shown their loyalty to the brand through orders and positive feedback. We appreciate the trust Michielsens has placed in our organization and the Demag product line.”

According to Johan Michielsens, he’s been pleased with the management team at Terex Cranes under the direction of Steve Filipov. “He delivers what he promises,” he concludes.

Michielsens plans to add the Demag AC 700-9 all terrain crane to its rental fleet of 180 mobile cranes soon.
